

Papendick Wins Sheriff Race for Nomination

Fitzgerald Vote Carries Every Precinct In County

GREEN CARRIES DISTRICT, 3886 TO 1055

Whoever ordered the weather for election day did a perfect job of it. The day was clear and comfortable and not a cloud appeared unless it may have been on the horizon of some of the hopeful candidates. Everyone seemed cheerful and friendly and if there were any unfriendly rivalry, it wasn't generally manifest.

The voters of Grayling were privileged to do their voting in the remodeled engine house at the City Hall, all newly decorated with Masonite and brown paint. But they didn't have anything on the voters of Grayling township for their newly remodeled and redecorated Town Hall was equally attractive. Gray with cream color scheme is very attractive and pleasing. And the old wood stove that kept the place heated had been relegated to the town dump and a brand new oil heater keeps the place comfortable during the days when heat is needed.

The polls of the county opened at 7:00 a. m. and closed at 6:00 p. m. The election laws did not provide for the election inspectors of Grayling city to close at the noon hour so that crew had to eat at piecemal, but we heard very little grumbling.

At times the inspectors were kept busy taking care of the crowd, with only an occasional lull between rushes. Grayling township voted 88 Republican and 41 Democrat ballots; the City of Grayling tallied 520 Republican and 184 Democratic votes.

Many surprises developed. Not so much in the result of the voting as in the size of the majorities. The largest of interest for the county voters was in the election of sheriff. Frank Bennett, the present incumbent, was deposited by one of his former deputies—John A. Papendick by a narrow margin of votes—368 to 322. And the race between Alvin LaChappelle and Clarence (Tony) Gross was watched with a lot of interest by the whole county. The latter, however, had a comfortable majority. Both are comfortable men and deserve the confidence of the people. LaChappelle proved himself a good sport when he congratulated his opponent and assured his assistance in the general election. By the way, Mr. LaChappelle lost his job, he says, when he entered the Republican campaign. He had charge of checking up of property taxes for several counties and had an office in the court house.

Frank D. Fitzgerald had a walk-away over Harry S. Toy and Roscoe Conklin Fitch, for Governor, and according to reports carried his popularity thru-out the state. And our old friend Loren D. Dickinson, several times former lieutenant governor, "smeared" his galaxy of opponents by a clean sweep here and in the state.

For congress, Roy O. Woodruff was easy victor over W. H. Tomlinson, Mayor of Bay City, by a vote of 552 to 195. It is reported that his victory was equally great thru-out the district.

William Green of Hillman quite surprised the voters by the overwhelming victory over William W. Erkfitz of Rogers City. The vote in the district was as follows:

Green Erkfitz
Presque Isle County 1314 589
Montmorency County 946 180
Oscoda County 343 103
Roscommon County 769 117
Crawford County 524 77
Total 3886 1055

Carl Jensen carried every township and the city of Grayling, including Beaver Creek, the home of his opponent, Theodore Leslie.

For register of deeds, Ronnow Hanson, the present incumbent, had a majority over his opponent Arthur Clough of 212 to 60.

Several votes were cast for Arthur May for register of deeds but he didn't get enough with the name spelled the same way to entitle him to a place on the Republican ticket. Arthur is a son of the late Frank May and his wife.

Orel Levan, proprietor of Blackie's beer tavern and pool room, had no trouble in defeating Walter Buck for sheriff on the Democratic ticket. The vote was 214 to 36. Adjoining is the vote in each precinct of Crawford county for each candidate.

Election Notes

There were 520 Republican ballots cast in Grayling City Primary election and 184 Democratic; and 88 Republican and 41 Democratic in Grayling township.

Forty-nine Republican ballots cast in Lovells and one Democratic, and the latter one gave 1 vote for Axel Peterson for Clerk and Ronnow Hanson for Register of Deeds and no other candidates. That's being loyal to one's friends.

Grayling city election inspectors worked all day and until nearly noon Wednesday morning in order to complete the count and making out reports.

Frederic election inspectors not only delivered their official election reports to the County Clerk's office Tuesday night, but they brot both ballot boxes as well. Of course they had to take the boxes back to Frederic.

Alvin LaChappelle was the first to congratulate his opponent, Clarence Gross, on his election and assured him that he would help him in the election. Frank Bennett too gave Jack the glad hand just as soon as Papendick's election was assured. That's the spirit.

Maurice didn't do so well as a vote-getter but he took his defeat very cheerfully. Just as did others. Someone always loses in an election.

The township clerks did a good job delivering the election reports Tuesday night. They were anxiously awaited by candidates and other interested persons.

Thank the Voters

It is with sincere appreciation that I thank the voters of Crawford county for voting for me in the Primary election Tuesday. If elected in November I will do my best to make a good sheriff.

Again, thanking you, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
John A. Papendick

I wish to express my sincere appreciation and to thank my people of Crawford county for selecting me as Republican nominee for County Clerk.

Clarence A. Gross.

I wish to thank the voters of Crawford county for the splendid vote given me in the Primary Election.

Ronnow Hanson,
Register of Deeds.

It is with sincere appreciation that I thank the voters of Crawford county for the wonderful support given me at the Primary Election.

Axel M. Peterson, County Clerk.

I wish to thank the voters of Crawford County for the wonderful support given me at the Primary Election.

William Ferguson,
County Treasurer.

Had A Fine Vote.

It is more than pleasing to be accorded such a fine vote at the Primary election Tuesday, for the office of representative in the State Legislature, Presque Isle district. I am indeed grateful and appreciative. I will do my best to serve my district with credit and with good judgment.

Sincerely yours,
Wm. Green,
Candidate for Representative in the State Legislature.

Log Const. Co. Buys Large Timber Stand

The National Log Construction Co. of this city has just consummated a deal with the Michigan Land & Chemical Co. whereby they purchased the standing timber on 9000 acres of land near Alpena, Michigan.

The timber consists of Norway White Pine, spruce, balsam and white cedar, much of which is virgin timber.

Timber operations will get under way early in October and in the meantime, a logging camp will be moved and set up comprising bunk houses, kitchens and messhalls. It is estimated that it will require from six to seven years to complete this timber operation which assures our local company sufficient raw material for that period of time and will allow them to increase production at the local plant.

MRS. H. W. WOLFF HOSTESS

Mrs. H. W. Wolff entertained Wednesday afternoon with an informal tea for a few friends.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, honeysuckle berries and flowers. The "tea" table was centered with a motif of the leaves and flowers, on the sides of which were lighted tapers.

It was a most pleasant affair for a very gloomy, rainy day.

Constitution Day Message

The nation pauses to observe Constitution day September 17, symbolized by Howard Chandler Christy's famous painting reproduced above. The painting shows George Washington addressing the Constitutional convention in Philadelphia, while at the top are figures symbolizing phrases of the preamble to the Constitution and elements in the 151 years of progress under that document.

Mrs. Peter Petersen Funeral Today

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at Danish-Lutheran church for Mrs. Peter Petersen, an estimable resident of Grayling since she was a girl. Rev. Christian Stockholm will officiate and interment will be in Elmwood cemetery. Mrs. Petersen passed away at Mercy hospital Monday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock from a heart ailment, having been ill for several years. For the past year she had not been able to even attend to her household duties because of her weakened condition.

Mrs. Petersen was a devoted member of the Danish-Lutheran church and one of its most ardent workers. She served as president of the Danish Ladies Aid society for a number of years, and was one of the original members of the Danish Reading circle. Mrs. Petersen's long residence in Grayling made her well known to most everyone, old and young. She had hosts of friends gained through her genial manner and friendly smile.

Anna Madsen was born in Falster, Denmark, October 18, 1873, and at the age of 15 years crossed the ocean alone, coming directly to Grayling. In those years many young Danes immigrated to America, and the young woman was among them. Later that same year she was joined by her parents the late Mr. and Mrs. Mads Rasmussen and other members of the family. In 1896 she was united in marriage to Hans Peter Hansen. There were no children born to the union but they took a child into their home, a daughter, Inger now Mrs. Inger Smith of Detroit. Mr. Hansen met a tragic death in 1911 when he was fatally injured at the Salling Hanson sawmill.

On June 4, 1922 Mrs. Hansen married for the second time, to Mr. Peter Petersen, who with the adopted daughter, Mrs. Smith, survive. Also surviving are one sister and four brothers, Mrs. Marie Hansen, Peter, Carl, Johannes and Niels. Mrs. Petersen was a devoted mother and a very sympathetic to many in their bereavement.

Many from out of town are expected to be in attendance at the funeral services today to pay their last respects.

Annual Meeting Chamber Commerce Postponed

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce called for Tuesday night, September 13th, was postponed until Tuesday night, Sept. 20, 1938 with the meeting being held in the Court House.

This postponement is necessary in view of the fact that election day required too many of the local citizens' time. All Chamber of Commerce members and local citizens interested in the future of this organization are urged to request to attend this meeting as there are many matters of great importance to be decided.

All Grayling merchants who have signed up for "Appreciation Day" are also requested to attend this meeting at which time the advertising banners and literature will be turned over to the merchants and a committee appointed to handle the details of this plan.

The benefit party given by the Ladies Auxiliary Wednesday evening was loads of fun and a huge success financially. The club took in $100. This will be used for repairs and redecorating of the club house.

Every business place in Grayling donated very generously for the party, making it a great success as a community affair. The golf course was a popular place for resorters, tourists, as well as local people throughout the season and officers of the golf club and auxiliary are very much pleased with the result. The golf course is decidedly a community asset.

The Ladies Auxiliary will have a pot luck luncheon Wednesday, Sept. 21, when some years business will be settled up.

Golf Club Had Fine Season

Grayling Golf club has enjoyed the most successful season this year of its entire history. The course is in excellent condition and is attracting players from other cities and especially from the resorts along the river and lakes, as well as from among our local residents.

No course in the north can boast of such excellent, vetvety greens, that make putting a delight. And the fairways too are fine. The service at the club house, under management of Bill Joseph has been pleasant and businesslike and intelligent. There has been a real atmosphere that makes the club a place where you want to return.

Perry Akers has been the clubhouse keeper and has been at the job all season and never had to be told to do things. He has worked out many improvements in the course and in the method of caring for it. Roy Mihres too has put in a lot of manual work on the tees and on some of the hazards, making a number of good changes.

In every branch of the Club's management there has been efficiency with the aim to making the course better and the general atmosphere more inviting.

The number of club members registering for play so far this season is 763; residents 93, and non-residents 1080, according to a report submitted by Secretary Wilhelm Raabe.

September and October are normally good golf months and a lot of good playing weather may be expected. Non-members and visitors are always welcome.

E. W. Jordan Dies In Mercy Hospital

OWNED ISLAND NEAR NORTH BRANCH

E. W. Jordan, 72 years of age, a former resident here, but now of Gaylord, died in Mercy hospital Friday. Heart trouble is given as the cause of his death.

At one time Mr. Jordan owned and, with his wife, lived in the cottage on the AuSable river island at the mouth of the North Branch river, that is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. McDonald of Detroit. The Jordans resided there several years. The former was a civil engineer but had retired from active work. After selling their home here they purchased and operated an auto service station in Gaylord.

He is survived by the widow, a son and daughter. The remains were taken to Pennsylvania for burial.

Watch for these entertaining features.

Merchants' Ball Team Closes Season

Grayling Merchants closed the baseball season Sunday in a very appropriate manner, by defeating East Jordan 7 and 6. Batteries for Grayling were Winterlee and Loskos, and Post played at his old favorite position for the first time this season, holding down the second sack. Grayling was the first to score, but at one time during the game were behind, when the score stood at East Jordan 6, Grayling 4. However the Merchants rallied, making a score in the 8th inning and two in the ninth to win the game. East Jordan used two pitchers but just couldn't stop the Merchants' onslaught.

Grayling feels pretty good over winning from East Jordan as the East Jordanites were proclaimed champions in a baseball tournament held in their town a couple of weeks ago.

This has been a great season for the local team for out of 17 games played they won 12. They have enjoyed good crowds at home games, and have had a large following of fans who accompanied them for out-of-town games.

For several years "Blackie" Levan has tried to organize a team that would stick together and he succeeded this year. So you have to hand it to "Blackie" for having revived Grayling's favorite old pastime—baseball. Early in the spring he called for volunteers to meet at his Tavern and he organized a team that has gone places this summer.

The Super Dixie Highway Assn.

R. A. Wright who was elected to the directorship of the Super Dixie Highway Association at a meeting held in Detroit, August 19, 1938, has just received advice from Henry S. Hulbert, secretary and treasurer, that everything is progressing satisfactorily and that the Government has set aside money so that each one of the nine States through which this super-highway will pass and who will participate with the U. S. Army and Bureau of Public Roads, can complete this project.

Mr. Hulbert also advised that each one of the nine States was raising a fund of $250,000 to defray expenses necessary in carrying this project to a conclusion and that $2,000,000 of this amount in Michigan was raised by Wayne county.

Each of the other counties in this State through which this super-highway will pass has been asked to raise the other $500.00 and Crawford county's share is $50.00 of this amount. It is proposed to raise this $50.00 by popular subscription amongst the business men in Grayling and Crawford county.

Another meeting of the Association will be held early in December at Lexington, Ky., at which the eighteen Senators of the nine States will be present and it is hoped at that time to complete final details.

This super-highway will be a big thing for Michigan and our county and it will be the means of practically doubling the tourist traffic in this county. The highway will extend from the Michigan Soo to Miami, Florida with a branch-off at Atlanta, Georgia, going to New Orleans on the Gulf of Mexico, and it will be a double lane highway with a park-way in the center.

If the business men of this county will contribute from $1.00 to $2.00 each, our share of $50.00 can be raised in short order. Leave your subscriptions at the Avalanche office or forward to R. A. Wright.

Miss Jane Ingley has rented her cottage for the winter to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Penrod of Garden City. Mr. Penrod is in the hardware business at that place.

The bandstand that has stood in the Courthouse park for a long number of years is being razed, as Grayling is without a band and has no longer use for it.

Frank Shipp, Gaylord, lieutenant governor of Kiwanis, and Dr.
Egle of the Gaylord sanitarium will be the speakers at the next Kiwanis luncheon, Wednesday noon.

Featuring the original George "Lazybones", Jimmy Raschel, and his orchestra, one of America's most versatile colored bands will entertain you at Spike's on Sept.
28 and 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Andrews (Grace Nelson) are happy over the arrival of a son born to them
Sept. 11. The little lad weighed 8 pounds, and 9 oz., and will be called Hans Arthur.

A couple of winter sports enlarged photographs from the

the building housing his grocery and fruit business on US-27. The foundation is laid and work on the upright will be started Saturday. The building when completed will be 26 x 40 feet.

Miss Margrethe Bauman was hostess to her bridge club at a very delightful luncheon Tuesday afternoon. The gorgeous colored autumn leaves and flowers made a lovely table decoration. Mrs.
Frank Bond was honor lady for contract that followed the luncheon.

Mr. Robert L. Lepper of Pittsburgh, an instructor in fine arts at the Carnegie Institute, was in Grayling first of the week. He will paint a series of murals for display in the postoffice. He says it will be historical, depicting the early days of Grayling.

Returning to Detroit—after spending the week end here, Emil Kraus was accompanied by his son Emil and daughter Virginia, the latter who will continue her studies at the University of Detroit for her second year. Louis Kraus spent the week end in Detroit, returning with his father.

Mrs. George McCullough left the last of the week for Kalamazoo in company with her granddaughter Mary Jane Land who had spent the summer here.
Mrs. McCullough will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs.
George Land and family, having rented her home here to Jesse Bobemoyer and family.

George Lutz and his son Lawrence escaped injury Tuesday afternoon, when the beer truck the former was driving overturned on a curve six miles north of Lewiston and caught fire. The truck was owned by George Collier who is a beer distributor, and the truck and its load was destroyed. It is reported the truck was insured but there was no insurance on the cargo.

If you enjoy high class music, plan to be at Spike's on Sept. 28
and 29.

SCHOOL NEWS

FREDERIC SCHOOL

Frederic Rural Agricultural School opened for the year of 1938-39 on Sept. 6th. The attendance at the opening was slightly fewer than the average for 1937-38 but after a week of school the enrollment exceeds that of last year despite the fact neighboring school districts have consolidated and drawn a few of last year's students. The average enrollment for the year 1937-38 was 155.8 while the enrollment for the present year is 162. Enrollment is as follows:

High School

Seniors, 9; Juniors, 8; Sophomores, 19; Freshmen, 10. Total 46.

Grades

Seventh and eighth, 34; Fifth and sixth, 26; Third and fourth,
38. Total 162.

Tuesday morning was taken up by selecting classes and changing schedules to fit the needs of all after which each class met a few minutes when books were assigned and lessons given out to start work in earnest the next morning. A new course in speed writing has been introduced as well as a course in Economic Geography.

Classes met and each chose their sponsor for the coming year.

Juniors and Seniors had to inorder to be organized to put on the election dinner Tuesday, Sept. 13th. The sponsors selected by the various classes are: Seniors, Mr. Beach; Juniors, Mr.
Methner; Sophomores, Miss
Brooks; Freshmen, Miss Spech.
All classes have not organized yet, so class officers will appear in a later issue of the paper.

The election dinner put on by the Junior and Senior classes was well attended and was a decided success financially. The members of both classes join with their sponsors in showing their appreciation of the way the public responded to the soliciting for the dinner. We thank you all.
The remark was heard in the hall
Tuesday that it was a good Republican day in Frederic.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to neighbors and friends, and Rev. Fr. Moloney and Dr.
Stanley Stealy for their kindness during our recent bereavement.
Also for the beautiful flowers and spiritual bouquets.

Mrs. Joel Fournier
and Family.

Pewter Once Held Favor, Then Made Into Bullets

Pewter was the product of a time when economic conditions governed actual needs, and neither in composition nor design was it other than what it was intended to be—an unpretentious household commodity for daily use.

Pewter speaks of the days in our country when history was in the making. We associate with it the stern and vigorous life of the early settlers. Surrounding it is much of pathos and romance, for more than one piece of choice pewter was thrown into the melting pot to make bullets to defend the home established in the new land.

For a period of nearly 100 years preceding the War of the Revolution, notes Alice R. Rollins in the Los Angeles Times, it was practically the only tableware available. Gradually it had supplanted the wooden ware used during the early years of settlement and in turn gave way to the china and silver of more prosperous times.

Although much of the pewter used in the earlier part of the colonial period was brought from England, a great deal of it was made by craftsmen of the colonies.

Almost every community had its pewterers. Little skill was required to produce plates, basins, mugs and the like as they required only casting, finishing on a lathe and a little soldering or welding.

Many of the designs were copied from the English pieces which were shipped to the colonies, but on the whole the American pewterers confined themselves to making plain and practical pieces of their own designing.

Lake Well Liked

Among the Lithuanians, Lake Naratus is most kindly esteemed for, as the story goes there, in a year of terrible famine when people were dying by the hundreds, the lake cast out huge batches of fish on both sides of the shore for ten days and the people were saved from starvation.

The amount of pattern already in the room should determine whether plain or figured material should be used for draperies and furniture. When wallpaper and rugs are figured, the slip covers should be plain. Generally there is more danger of having too much pattern in a room than not having enough.

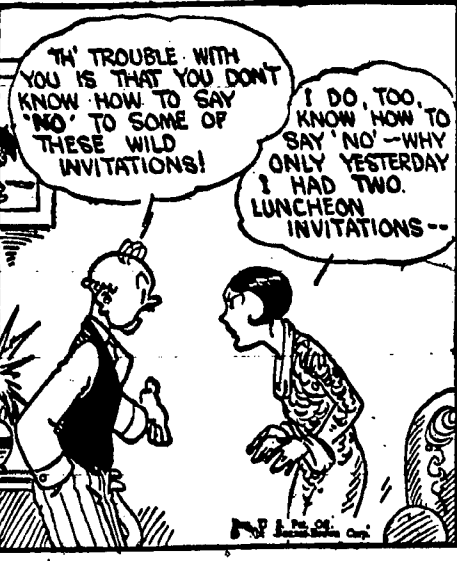

Chimneys should be inspected before the furnace is started in the fall. One inspection method used quite effectively is that of getting a good smoky fire going and then clapping a stopper over the top of the chimney. If there are breaks anywhere in the chimney the smoke will be seen seeping through.

Howler Monkey Is Noisy
The howler monkey, whose deep-throated voice echoes through the depths of the Panamanian jungles can be heard in the jungle day and night, and many visitors have mistaken it for the roar of lions. His voice, like that of the singing toad, is louder from a distance, decreasing in volume as one approaches. But even at close range it is unusual when compared with the bird-like notes of white-faced and other species of monkeys. Even though he is small in comparison to a lion, the mantled howler is the largest and heaviest of all New World monkeys. His fur is unusually beautiful, shading from very dark brown tones to light. He is of a gregarious nature, traveling in troops and swinging through the tree tops. He swings by his tail, a characteristic peculiar to New World monkeys.

The Grandfather Clauses

The grandfather clauses were a provision in state constitutions by which a person's right to vote was based on his descent from a voter. Its purpose was to prevent Negroes from taking part in elections. North Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Oklahoma had such clauses in their constitutions. In 1914 the United States Supreme court declared the Oklahoma provision in conflict with the Fifteenth amendment. While there was no mention of race, color or previous condition of servitude, the court held the effect was to disfranchise the descendants of former slaves. In the other states the clauses expired of self-limitation. The grandfather clauses usually read, in effect, something like this: "No persons shall vote in this state if he is unable to read and write, unless his father or grandfather was a voter before 1867."

THIS IS A TIGLON

This snarling animal is a hybrid lion-tiger, or tiglon, presented to the Central Park zoo in New York by an anonymous donor. Its father was a Siberian tiger and its mother an African lioness. During the winter when the pelt is in its prime the characteristics of the tiger appear.

Bloodhounds Have Been

Known as 'St. Huberts'

Bloodhounds, larger of the hound breeds, are deceiving in their facial expression. With wrinkles creasing their faces, these dogs are probably the most disconcerting looking ones in the ever-growing canine family. In reality, the bloodhound is a happy dispositioned dog, ever friendly and always willing to please the master.

Because of their remarkable scenting ability, bloodhounds have been used for many decades to track down criminals. However, this was not always the chief purpose of the dog, writes George Butz in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Centuries ago the bloodhound was known as a "St. Hubert hound," and was probably one of the first pure-bred dogs of all time. They were carefully bred by the monks at St. Hubert's abbey in France. In those days the dogs were adept in trailing game.

The nobility of France were extremely careful in breeding bloodhounds and their ancient history discloses the fact quite a number of them were pure white. Later they were white streaked on a background of black and tan.

Gradually, as they were imported to England, bloodhounds were banned that had any white in their coat colors. According to the present standard, tan with black saddle is desired in coat markings.

Bloodhounds are not necessarily huge, clumsy dogs. They weigh from 80 to 100 pounds, but are unexpectedly fast when they get under way. They naturally trail with their nose close to the earth and that alone impedes their speed. Out in the open these dogs show amazing celerity of foot.

Old New York Furniture

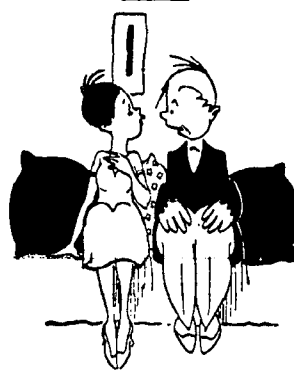

Largely Dutch in Origin

The Hollanders who settled Nieu Amsterdam and the surrounding territory were ill pleased when it became a British colonial possession and was renamed New York, says The American Collector. For more than 100 years afterward Dutch settlers and their descendants kept to themselves and had as little as possible to do with the English arrivals. Legally they might be British subjects, but in speech, religious observance and domestic manners they remained lieges of the Netherlands.

This tenacity explains why so much New York furniture adhered in style and type to that of the Low countries until well into the Eighteenth century, when some English furniture forms finally gained acceptance. But even then, judging by the number that survived one piece of Dutch furniture continued to be popular with those of Holland descent. This was the kas. Large and ample, it was a practical piece that lent itself to many uses. It shelves were fitted behind the double doors it became an excellent linen press.

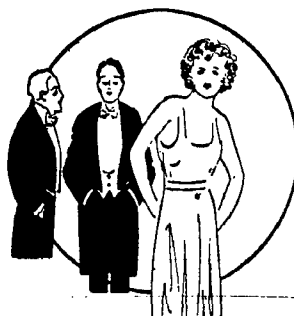

But in spite of its convenience it found no favor with English cabinet makers. Consequently the kas can always be ascribed to Dutch workmanship for a Dutch household.

Exploration of Alaska Credited to Sea Otter

The sea otter, his silky, soft, dense pelt the most valuable known to commerce, was responsible for the exploration and early development of that part of the North American continent now known as Alaska. For on the throne of Russia sat a pretty, capricious lady who would and must have sea otter skins, as she found them most becoming. Her Imperial Majesty Catherine II, empress of Russia, said "bring me furs," and furs were brought, not only to Catherine the Great, and her court, but to the markets of Asia, recalls a writer in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. During the closing years of the Eighteenth century and the opening decade of the Nineteenth, it is estimated that from 8,000 to 10,000 sea otter skins were taken to Asia each year from the southern waters of Alaska.

It was Peter the Great and his empress, Catherine I, who first took real interest in discovering more about the great land, vaguely reported to lie to the eastward. Under their command, Vitus Bering, Danish captain in the Russian service, in 1728 discovered and named St. Lawrence island, sailed through Bering strait, and rounded East cape. Thus Bering strait was on the world's map 15 years before the first white man gazed upon the Rocky mountains. On a second voyage of exploration, Bering, in 1741, made the actual discovery of mainland Alaska, landing near Prince William sound. Bering died in the new country he had discovered, and after months of suffering and privation some of his men returned home bearing the first of those history-making sea otter skins, which they sold for nearly $30,000. As this news spread among the fur hunters of Siberia it caused an excitement second only to the frantic rush for gold that more than a century and a half later was to draw thousands to the mines of the Klondike.

Cloth Names Are Traced To Some Other Countries

Many of our names for cloth come to us from the Orient. Calico is from Calicut, India, the city from which it was first imported. Doubtless at first the term used was Calicut cloth, but phrases often shrink in usage, and calico was an easy evolution, says the Kansas City Star. Madras, also in India, gave us the cloth which bears its name. This was first made from silk and cotton, but the name is applied to the same weave in cotton also, a fabric which is much used for men's shirts.

Damask is from Damascus, noted long ago for its fine steel blades and for its silks. Damask is characterized by woven designs which represent flowers or conventional figures. It was originally made of silk, but the name was later applied to the same weave in silk, cotton, rayon or wool used for hangings and upholstery, and to linen woven for table napery and towels.

Linsley-woolsey is an old English name from linsel, linen and wolsey, wool. Many woolen fabrics bear English names, such as melton, from a town of that name in Leicestershire and worsted, from a town in Norfolk.

Meaning of Red Herring Across Path

A red herring is a herring of special grade which has been heavily salted and slowly smoked to give it a rich brown or reddish color. "To draw a red herring across one's path, track or trail," means to attempt to divert one's attention from the real question by raising a side issue. The saying originated among sportsmen and was suggested by an old practice described as follows in "Gentlemen's Recreation" which was written by a man named Cox and published in 1688: "The trailing or dragging of a dead cat, or fox, and in case of necessity a red-herring, three or four miles . . . and then laying the dogs on the scent." Dogs have a keen scent for red herring, and if one is drawn across the trail of a fox it will mislead the hunter.

Order of the Conservation Commission—Ducks, Geese, Brant, Coot, Jacksnipe, Rails, Gallinules And Woodcock.

The Director of Conservation, in compliance with federal regulations in regard to migratory game birds, recommends certain regulations.

By authority of Act 286, P. A. 1929, as amended, and Act 230, P. A. 1925, the Conservation Commission hereby establishes an open season on migratory game birds and complies with federal regulations in regard to hunting and possession thereof.

The open season on ducks (except wood duck), geese, brant, coot, jacksnipe, rails and gallinules during the season of 1938 shall be from October 1 to November 14, inclusive, excepting that it shall be unlawful to hunt ducks, geese, brant and coot before 7:00 a. m. or after 4:00 p. m., and jacksnipe, rails and gallinules (except coot) and woodcock before 7:00 a. m. and after sunset, Eastern Standard Time; and the daily bag and possession limits shall be as follows: ducks (except wood duck), 10 in the aggregate of all kinds in one day of which not more than 3 of any one or more than 3 in the aggregate of canvasback, redhead, ruddy duck or bufflehead, 20 in the aggregate of all kinds in possession of which not more than 6 of any one, or more than 6 in the aggregate may be canvasback, redhead, bufflehead or ruddy duck; geese and brant combined in one day and in possession; coot, 10 in a day and 20 in possession; rails and gallinules (except coot), 10 in a day and 15 in possession; snipe, 10 in a day, 15 in possession.

The open season on woodcock in the Upper Peninsula shall be from October 1 to October 12, inclusive, and from October 15 to October 31, inclusive, in the Lower Peninsula; the daily bag limit shall be 4 and 4 in possession at one time.

It shall be unlawful to shoot migratory game birds with a shotgun (automatic or pump) that has a capacity of more than three shells or to use bait for shooting waterfowl; to use live decoys in taking waterfowl or to use sink box, battery power propelled boat, sail boat or other craft that is towed by a power boat or still boat in taking migratory waterfowl. It shall be unlawful to carry out of the State more than two days' bag limit of ducks, or geese and brant combined and one day's bag limit of other migratory game birds in one calendar week.

The Michigan Mirror

Non-partisan News Letter
Michigan Press Association
By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—Smoke of the primary fight is now clearing away and party managers are adjusting their gun ranges for one of the most bitterly fought political battles in Michigan history.

The state ballot test in November is assuming nationwide prominence, largely due to the unusual confidence which Governor Murphy enjoys at the White House and due to the fact that Murphy still basks in the public limelight as a possible presidential nominee in 1940.

The New Deal governor has made no public utterances that could be construed as mildly critical of the President.

In his devotion to FDR, he has voiced his blessing for a third term—and you can't go much farther than that.

"Sky the Limit?"
As the opponents line up in September with "sky the limit" for charges and counter-charges we find their strength to be somewhat as follows:

Democrats—All the payroll cash, and that is nothing to be sneezed at, considering the $30,000,000-plus payments out of the state treasury in the past 12 months. (When the civil service new pay scale will accomplish something yet to be seen.) Millions of dollars from Uncle Sam in the form of WPA, PWA, FHA, AAA and other alphabetized benefits—all a part of the so-called "pump priming" program for spending our way back to recovery.

Republicans—No state patronage, but hundreds of county leaders—supervisors etc.—eager to return to Lansing. Nursing severe and painful wounds received in the recent family row, but deriving some consolation from the thought that the Democrats have family troubles, too.

(1) Former Governor Comstock grimly whetting his tomahawk; (2) Lieut. Gov. Leo J. Nowicki, maintaining discreet silence as to Murphy's labor policies; and (3) Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner being more interested in highway plans than in Murphy's re-election GOP trouble. What to do with McKay, the Grand Rapids GOP boss. How to pacify Labor, acknowledging their right to collective bargaining and peaceful picketing; and yet not offend Business (both Big and Little).

Democratic Schism
Comstock's determination to get Murphy's scalp is a neat sample of the schism that has been slowly growing in Michigan Democratic ranks. It isn't a split as yet.

The state administration is thankful that Senator Prentiss Brown is not up for re-election this fall. Prentiss fought the reorganization bill. He voted against the court bill. With these black marks, he would certainly be in line for the Roosevelt's own GOP—"Get-Out-Purge." Brown's attitude is that of most old-line Democrats in Michigan who sympathize generally with FDR's program, but talk at a distance of his far-reaching reforms. Along with Brown, you will find Edward Fry, state chairman, and his brother, Theodore, state treasurer. This viewpoint is shared by Van Wagoner and Nowicki; nationally, it is held by such men as Vice-President Garner, Carter Glass and other leading Democrats who vote straight and abhor the very existence of a Republican.

Independence
It is somewhat of the spirit of a declaration of independence. State Chairman Fry greeted James A. Farley, national chairman, at Mackinac Island, with these significant words:

"Mr. Farley, Michigan is still Democratic. Some of us may not agree with everything that has been done in Washington or in Lansing. But any alterations in the course we have adopted are going to be made by an experienced pilot and not by fortune tellers."

This was interpreted in several ways: (1) Ed Fry, at least, desiring to distance himself from Washington. (2) Practical men, not day dreamers, would determine policies in Michigan.

Governor Murphy certainly has set a shining example of how a state governor can co-operate 100 per cent with the President. In his ideal fervor for reform, he is far ahead of the party rank-and-file in endorsing enthusiastic approval of every Roosevelt objective. In other words, he is willing to go the limit.

Sometimes the reformer gets too far ahead of the masses, or answers to the Left. As Roosevelt praised the idea of the other day, explaining Pledge failures, it sometimes takes years for the party to catch up with the president.

Up-Hill Fight
Except for the possibility of an out-and-out Democratic split, Michigan Republicans face an uphill fight.

For one thing, their own ranks are not consolidated. They lack patronage payrolls to keep the campaign. Both primary camps were practically "broken" a week ago.

They are handicapped by not having the political key to the New Deal treasury chest. ("Murphy can get us more federal money.")

As the governor declared in his special session message, 200,000 workers are on WPA payrolls today in Michigan. The governor today has a black check good for $10,000,000 to assure adequate welfare relief. Yes, the Michigan campaign is going to be worth watching. Anything may happen before it is over.

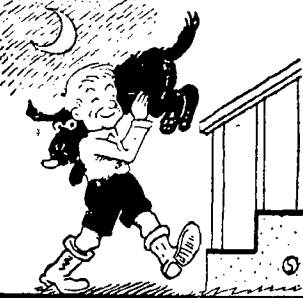

VERY MUCH OBLIGED!

R. K. Gunther, formerly of Frederic, but now of East Jordan, has, it is reported, just obtained a divorce from his wife. Accordingly the following notice appeared in the Charlevoix County Herald of East Jordan in their issue of September 9th:

"Card of Thanks.
"I wish to thank my friends and relatives for everything you have done, your words of kindness, sympathy, consolation and interest taken in Mrs. Gunther and myself, during our recent sorrow. May the Lord bless you for it."

Term Caucasian Refers To the Caucasus Region

In a limited sense the term Caucasian refers to the Caucasus region, on the borderland of Europe and Asia, or to its inhabitants, especially its indigenous people, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In its wider use the term is employed as the German anthropologist Johann Friedrich Blumenbach used it, in 1775, to designate the division of mankind which embraces the chief races inhabiting Europe, North Africa and southwestern Asia. He applied this name on the supposition that the people of the Caucasus were the archetype of the race. The typical people of the Caucasus family are comprised in the speakers of the Indo-European, Semitic and Hamitic languages, although some other races, such as the Ainu of Japan and the Polynesians, are by some considered to be stray Caucasians.

Blumenbach distinguished five primary races of mankind—the Caucasoid (which includes some people as brown or black as those of other races), the Mongoloid, the Ethiopic, the American, and the Malay. This classification is still largely followed, although some, like Linnaeus, allow only four—European, Asiatic, African and American—and others, like DeQuatrefages, reduce the number to three, the Malay and American Indian being treated as mixed races, chiefly Mongoloid in origin.

First Church in Canada

Is Claimed by Tadoussac Colorful gentlemen of the Cross and the sword march across the pages of Canadian history. Their color and pageantry have perhaps beclouded a more significant phase of their presence. The prosaic fact is that the first civilized community in Canada was established because the profit margin in furs was considerably higher than investment returns from whale oil, according to a correspondent in the Boston Globe.

Enterprising European seamen discovered the money-making possibilities in fur trading by chasing whales up the St. Lawrence as far as Tadoussac, where the Saguenay joins the larger river. At Tadoussac they formed a settlement and erected the first church in Canada.

The Indians objected to the newcomers, massacred them and wiped out the settlement, but they left the church standing and the visitor to Tadoussac can hear the angelus rung by the same bell in the same church that survived the destruction of the early village.

Visitors to Tadoussac discover, among other things, that whaling is an industry at the mouth of the Saguenay, where whaling fleets hunt white whales and the larger ocean-going variety.

How Chinese Gather Persimmons

Few customs of Chinese life offer more humor than the practice of picking persimmons, says the National Geographic Magazine. In certain localities pickers work in pairs. One climbs into the tree branches, gripping a short pole on the end of which is fastened an iron hook. By placing the hook over the fruiting branch and giving it a quick twist, the picker can detach the persimmon. The picker's partner below, head back, watches every movement. Imagine a Chinese, wearing two long, shirlike coats (three if the weather happens to be chilly) grasping two short sticks which support an improvised net of cloth or sack. His task is to rush forward to catch a falling persimmon. The picker in the tree does not always wait for his partner to get into position. The persimmon falls; the partner lunges.

Carnegie's Theory of Wealth

Andrew Carnegie's theory of wealth was as follows: "This, then, is held to be the duty of the man of wealth: To set an example of modest, unostentatious living, shunning display and extravagance; to provide moderately for the wants of those dependent upon him, and after doing so, to consider all surplus revenues which come to him simply as trust funds, which he is called upon to administer. . . . the man of wealth thus becoming the mere trustee and agent for his poorer brethren."

World's Longest Mustache

John Kontra, eighty-one years old, a swineherd, astonished Budapest, Hungary, with the length of his mustache when he visited the capital. He claims to have the world's longest mustache. It measures 28 inches. He oils his mustache twice every day and sleeps with it wound round a ramshorn to keep it curled. Records have been looked up and it has been found that the only authentic claim of the kind was put forward by General Nagoka of Japan who died in 1893. His mustache measured 20 inches.

Fire Chief Uses Amplifier

High in the air on ladders, their vision obscured by smoke, Chicago's firemen yet speed unerringly to each new outcropping of flame and quench it before it gets out of hand. For on the ground, with an unobstructed view of the entire conflagration and adjacent property, is the fire marshal directing his men by means of a 100-watt sound amplifier, capable of carrying his voice more than a mile.—Radio Retelling.

Low Scores At Cheboygan Tourney

Jim Duffina, Professional at the Mackinac Island Golf course, was the first champion of the Northern Michigan Open, golf classic inaugurated Labor Day at the Cheboygan Golf & Country Club course. Duffina earned the title to the Open when he carded a medal score of 154 to nose out Allen Stewart, Petoskey-Bay View Professional, by one point. The Petoskey Pro had finished the 36 holes of play an hour earlier with a score of 155.

A gallery of several hundred golfing enthusiasts followed the Tournament with intense interest throughout the day. So great was the interest in the event that the sponsoring club at a meeting decided to make the Northern Michigan Open a permanent part of the local golfing schedule each year. Players who participated and their scores are as follows:

WHAT PRICE FISH ARE PAY- ING FOR EMPTY POCKETS

(Contributed)

Now, nobody can object to a fellow having a vacation and going fishing. Lots of Presidents have done it before. But tastes are changing. The modern angler is doing things on a scale that would make Isaac Walton's eyes pop out like a pair of salmon eggs.

The fishing barge on the latest presidential expedition is a 10,000-ton cruiser that cost $200,000. The "attendants" are 700 officers and men. Going along as tender is a $5,000,000 destroyer with 200 more.

The $20,000,000 barge was in the navy yard for weeks before the trip being fixed up to suit a fisherman's taste. Rooms were re-arranged, new carpets were laid, baths were put in, special compartments were built for fishing tackle. It was a job that, from a cost standpoint, would have given the richest king or maharajah a sinking spell. But it was all a part of the grand scale of living—and fishing—in America.

Maybe the Forgotten Man, wading out in some creek with a six-bit pole and a balky second-hand reel trying to snag an eight-inch trout that probably isn't there, can get some comfort out of thinking of the $20,000,000 fishing expedition. After all, he's paying for it.

But, as he might ponder, what price fish?—Los Angeles Times.

HER 'SEEING EYE'

Miss Hazel Hurst, 22-year-old blind girl of Oneonta, N. Y., whose "seeing eye" dog was refused admission into England, returned to New York recently. She said she had only herself to blame for her difficulties and had been treated with every courtesy in London. The minister of agriculture, she said, had expressed regret that he could not give the permit for her dog to enter unless it spent the usual six months in quarantine.

Beaver Creek

(Too late for last week)

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Skingley awoke this morning to find that someone had taken the liberty of breaking into their beer stand across the road. Damages have not been estimated as yet.

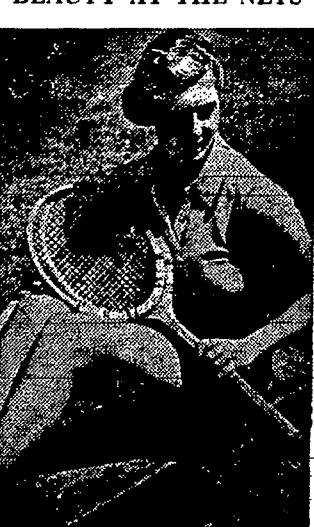

Mr. and Mrs. Lorn Taylor and family and Frank Bucuchamp, all of Pontiac, visited the former's uncle and aunt; Mr. and Mrs. Lyn Kile, over the week end.

The Chaney L. Rogers farm has been sold for a hunting and fishing lodge, the ownership consisting of ten Veterans of Foreign Wars. They are remodeling at the present time getting ready for deer season. It is understood that there will be at least fifty people accommodated at that time. We all wish them good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wydeck and nephew Junior Wydeck, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt and family, Edward Kuscut and son Frederic, were up from Detroit over the week end to get the place in shape for deer season.

It is understood that everyone attending the picnic Sunday at the town hall were very well pleased with the entertainment and all had a good time.

BEAUTY AT THE NETS

Kay Stammers, who is in this country to participate in women's tennis tournaments, is considered one of the prettiest of the tennis girls. Miss Stammers is the ranking British tennis star.

PRISONER ESCAPES!

Guard Killed By British Officer in Daring Escape from German Prison Camp

HUNTED by all the police in Germany, he found refuge in the heart and home of this lovely little girl of the Berlin streets. . . . Calmly, bravely she faced the police and lied for him—lied for an enemy of her country whom she had known but one short night. . . . Not even the threats of certain death could break her devoted loyalty to him.

You'll be held breathless by this exciting story of escape from a German prison camp. You'll be thrilled and fascinated by this romantic girl who took such desperate chances to hold the only tender, sincere love she ever knew. . . . No wonder the late O. O. McIntyre called it "The most absorbing book I've read in five years."

Because we want you to know Mercury Books, we'll send you this one—"Everything Is Thunder," by J. L. Hardy—practically free. We'll supply the book, if you'll pay 10c for postage and handling.

Out of more than 100,000 copies printed we have less than 5,000 left—and they're going fast. Hurry and send a dime for a complete copy of this intensely interesting book of more than 90,000 words. (Sorry—only one to a customer).

Here's my dime. Send me a copy of the Mercury Book "Everything Is Thunder" by J. L. Hardy.
